Tsardines in a can

How your organisation can participate in one of the craziest charitable adventures around

What is the Ice Run?

The Ice Run is a 2500km unsupported motorbike rally though northern Siberia in February 2013, with the aim of raising money for Operation Smile - a charity providing free operations to children with cleft lips and other facial deformities across the world. The rally is organised by the League of Adventurists International, and team Tsardines in a Can intends to take part in February 2013.

While the rally is not competitive - and there is no set route to reach the finish line - teams will have to navigate their legendary Ural motorcycles through more than 2500km of uncharted, bear-filled terrain completely covered with ice and snow - in temperatures as low as -40 degrees celsius. Following a very successful trial run in 2012, the two week event promises to be an unforgettable adventure for participants and spectators alike.

The rally starts in the town of Irbit, Sverdlovsk Oblast, Russia. We will then head north along the Ob River before arriving in the town of Salekhard, located on the edge of the Arctic Circle. Along the way we will need to navigate our antique motorbikes over roads built from compacted ice and snow and survive in the extremely harsh conditions.

Who are we?

We're Tsardines in a can - a team of two brothers from Perth, Western Australia that has entered The Ice Run 2013. We want to make the world a better place, and at the same time get out into it: raise money for charity, meet people, and visit unforgettable places that only the most foolhardy tourists dare visit. See Contact Us below to get in touch.

What experience do we have?

In 2011, Patrick - one half of Tsardines in a can - participated in the Mongol Rally: a 15,000km rally from Portsmouth, UK through to Ulanbaatar, Mongolia in a tiny 1.2L Skoda Fabia. As one of three members of Mongol Rally team Perth to Yurt, we blogged extensively about our experience at http://perthtoyurt.com and http://perthtoyurt.com and http://perthtoyurt.com and http://perthtoyurt.com and http://www.flickr.com/photos/blinken/sets/72157627128808765/.

Mongol Rally team Perth to Yurt raised close to $3500 for the Christina Noble Foundation, and completed the rally in an incredible four weeks. Unfortunately, having completed more than 14,000km across 16 countries the team's trusty Skoda broke down beyond repair 400km short of the finish line, resulting in a mad overland dash to the finish in a hired Toyota Landcruiser.

You can read more about team Perth to Yurt on the Mongol Rally 2011 at http://perthtoyurt.com. During the rally, the team website peaked at more than 200 unique pageviews per day.

Why do we need sponsorship?

While it promises to be an unforgettable adventure, as it is an unsupported rally the Ice Run requires an enormous amount of carefully selected equipment and cold weather survival gear. Sponsorship money will not go to charity - but it will permit us to undertake the trip, raise awareness of our mission and increase the amount of money we're able to raise. This is fantastic opportunity to associate your brand with an attention-grabbing charitable cause.

Tax-deductible donations to charity are also very welcome and promotional opportunities are available. See Contact Us below to get in touch for more details.
